NOTE A – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Operations

ABC, LLC was formed in the State of Florida on January 1, 2019. The Company operates as a commercial construction company.

Revenue and Cost Recognition

The Company has elected to prepare financial statements on the accrual method of accounting. Revenues are recognized on the percentage-of-completion method, measured by the percentage of total costs incurred to date to estimated total costs for each contract. This method is used because management considers expended costs to be the best available measure of progress on these contracts.

Contract costs include all direct materials and labor costs and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as indirect labor, supplies, tools, repairs and depreciation costs. General and administrative expenses are expensed as incurred. Provisions for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses are determined. Changes in job performance, job conditions, and estimated profitability may result in revisions to costs and income and are recognized in the period in which the revisions are determined.

The asset, "Costs and estimated earnings in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts," represents revenues recognized in excess of amounts billed. The liability, "Billings in excess of costs and estimated earnings on uncompleted contracts," represents billings in excess of revenues recognized.

Cash Equivalents

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable

ABC LLC estimates the allowance based on its historical experience of the relationship between actual bad debts and net credit sales and the specific review of significant account balances that remain outstanding beyond the normal credit terms. Management charges off receivables when they are contractually past due, and it is probable that they will not be collected.

Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets are carried at cost and include expenditures for improvements and betterments which substantially increase the useful lives of existing property and equipment. Maintenance, repairs and minor renewals are expensed as incurred. When properties are retired or otherwise disposed of, the related cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the respective accounts and any profit or loss is credited or charged to income.

The Company provides rates designed to expense the cost of such fixed assets over their estimated useful lives. Depreciation is computed on the straight-line method.

	Estimated Useful Life in Years
Furniture and Fixtures	5
Vehicles	5
Leasehold Improvement	5

Income Taxes

The Company is a pass-through entity therefore any income tax expense or benefit is the responsibility of the company's owners. As such, no provision for income tax is recognized on the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Due to uncertainties in the process of estimating the progress toward completion on uncompleted jobs, it is at least reasonably possible that gross profit on those jobs will be revised in the near-term, and those revisions may be material.

NOTE B – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company follows ASC 850, "Related Party Disclosures," for the identification of related parties and disclosure of related party transactions. No transactions require disclosure.

NOTE C – CONTINGENCIES, COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS AND REGULATIONS

The Company is pending a litigation ruling against a client, EFG LLC, for non-payment of contractual service. The amount owed is $100,000, not including interest, attorney's fees, and costs. In addition, the Company is currently complying with all relevant laws and regulations.
